Guest Speaker: Ms Paola Dindo – Designer, Painter and Restorer

Conservation of Paintings in Hong Kong: Insights and Challenges

Hong Kong is home to some of the most sought after and expensive art in the world, especially contemporary and modern Chinese and Asian paintings. Specific and unique knowledge is needed to display, handle and store such work of arts. Paola Dindo will talk about the most common hazards (humidity, human handling, light) that threaten these paintings and how her extensive knowledge and experience have helped to restore and conserve numerous of them. Her interesting insights and anecdotes will provide a unique view into the conservation of art in Hong Kong.

Born in Lugano, Switzerland to an Italian family, Paola Dindo is a highly sought-after Hong Kong designer. A training in painting and polychromes restoration enables her to successfully combine knowledge of the history of art and techniques with a wide selection of innovative ideas. Paola owns her own studio in Hong Kong and has been educating and providing collectors with conservation and restoration expertise, materials, techniques and skills. She also received the fellowship by the International Institute of Conservation (IIC) in London.
